How to use this report

Use starts, completions, first and best attempts, retakes, and response-area patterns to decide where buyer or facilitator follow-up may help.

Measurement boundary: these are directional reinforcement indicators. They do not independently verify identity, attendance, learning transfer, workplace performance, certification, or compliance.

Round-by-round response snapshot

Completion and average best-attempt score share a 0-100% scale. Each round uses different buyer-approved decisions, so score differences are not a like-for-like improvement measure.

Day 0 - Immediate recap

24 starts / 21 completions / 27 attempts

Day 7 - Application check

22 starts / 20 completions / 25 attempts

Day 14 - Final reinforcement

21 starts / 19 completions / 23 attempts

Response-area signals

Directional insights for follow-up

These observations summarize recorded practice behavior. They are prompts for human review, not automated conclusions about a participant or cohort.

PARTICIPATION PATTERN

Round completion ranged from 88% to 91%

The final assigned round recorded 19 completions from 21 starts. Compare this assignment-scoped count with your planned cohort outside Trivana.

FACILITATOR PRIORITY

Opening discovery has the lowest answer-match rate at 62%

Review the underlying buyer-approved decision and participant response pattern before choosing any follow-up.

PRACTICE BEHAVIOR

8 retakes across 8 participant-rounds

First and best attempts remain separate in the report and CSV so repeated practice is visible rather than presented as a fresh measurement.

RECOMMENDED REVIEW ORDER

1. Check planned cohort versus observed starts. 2. Review flagged response areas. 3. Inspect first-to-best attempt rows. 4. Decide the next facilitator touchpoint.
